

Gel Text

Contributed by Ray Silcox
Sunday, 31 July 2005

Everyone likes a slice of bread with some jelly in it. You can get the same effect and look in your texts as well.

- Click here to see the video version of this tutorial.
- Open a new 500 x 500 sized PSD document.
- Change your foreground color to yellow (#FAEB03), and background color to maroon (#631300).
- Grab the gradient tool () , and apply it like below: - Change your foreground color to (#B70034), and write your desired text. - Go to Layer -> Layer Style -> Bevel and Emboss, apply the following changes and click ok: - Go to Layer -> Layer Style -> Gradient Overlay, apply the following changes and click ok: (only change the Gradient field in this change) - Go to Layer -> Layer Style -> Color Overlay, apply the following changes and click ok: - Go to Layer -> Layer Style -> Inner Shadow, apply the following changes and click ok: - Go to Layer -> Layer Style -> Drop Shadow, apply the following changes and click ok: - Final result should look like below: